Memo: Business & General Info

From the National Office

Subject	Issue No.	Date
FSE Magazine	36	June 09

We have arranged to have delivered to members (as part of your yearly subscription and at no added cost) a regular copy of the magazine FSE (Fire Safety Engineering). This magazine is published ten times a year and to subscribe as an individual would cost circa £90, so we hope you can agree that this deal represents excellent value for our members.

However, as the magazine will be distributed directly by FSE's publishers it will necessitate the IFEDA office sending out a members' address list.

Should you NOT want your address sent to the FSE publishers please let the IFEDA office know either by email or phonecall.

Equally, FSE have offered to send out a weekly update newsletter on receipt of a member's email address. If you do NOT want your email address sending to FSE please let us know.
