BS5306-3 : 2009 - RECENT IFEDA WORKSHOPS

For those of you who were unable to attend the recent workshops highlighting the new version of BS5306-3 : 2009 following are the slides converted to PDFs.

Please note that the standard makes reference to the RRO as published in England and Wales. The Fire Safety (Scotland) Regs 2006 are relevant for Scotland with the Northern Ireland fire safety regulations being published in 2010.

N.B. the only major differences I have found between the English and Scottish publications is that the Responsible Person becomes the Duty Holder in Scotland, the accompanying guides in Scotland do NOT direct the Duty Holder to look for companies that are third party accredited and it is recommended that the Duty Holder checks his portable fire equipment on a monthly basis (weekly in the English version).

In the following pages new additions to the standard are in RED, deletions from the previous standard are in BLUE, any explanatory notes are in PURPLE and the text in BLACK is either 'as was' or restructured for ease of reference.
